

Angela Carrick, DO, FACOEP, FACEP is a board certified emergency medicine physician at Norman Regional Hospital in Norman, Oklahoma. She attended medical school at Kansas City University and then completed residency at Integris Southwest Medical Center in Oklahoma City in 2009. She is the Associate Program Director of the Emergency Medicine Residency at Norman Regional as well as the Co-Director of the Stroke Program at the hospital. Her other involvements include serving in the American College of Osteopathic Emergency Physicians as the Chair of the Women's Committee and a member of the CME Committee. Physician wellness is one of her passions and she serves as the Council of Residency Directors (CORD) Resilience Committee's Chair of National Physicians Suicide Awareness (NPSA) Day September 17. Her other interests include mentoring and teaching students and young physicians and women in medicine. Outside medicine she is married to a Norman Fire Captain, a mom to three young boys, a passionate vegan and animal rights enthusiast, and loves traveling!