EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Lana Ivy, MBA, CFRE
CEO/Executive Director

On January 30th, Governor Stitt announced his administration's healthcare plan for Oklahoma, called SoonerCare 2.0. in Washington, D.C., where he was participating in the Trump administration's release of the Healthy Adult Opportunity (HAO) initiative to give unprecedented flexibility to states to innovate and develop Medicaid plans for the adult population where federal funding is optional.

While the OOA has not seen the full details of Governor Stitt's Medicaid proposal, we are eager to meet with him and his administration and give our feedback from the physicians that are on the front line every day taking care of Oklahoma's most vulnerable. The OOA reached out to Governor Stitt along with other healthcare providers in the state, to offer input. While we have yet to meet with Governor Stitt, we did meet with OHCA Director Kevin Corbett and Secretary Jerome Loughridge to voice our opinions and offer input prior to this announcement. As we learn more about details of his proposal, we will need your input and prompt reply about how this will impact your patients across the state.

Additional legislation we will be watching and working on include immunizations, tobacco bills, parity laws for mental health treatment, surprise billing, and PMTC legislation.

Protecting your scope of practice will continue to be a central focus for us this session. We must continue to educate our legislators about healthcare and why we know what is best for physicians and patients. Please watch for Action Alerts as session progresses! It is your VOICE that legislators want to hear from on healthcare bills. I encourage you to stay engaged. Our Bureau on Legislation is open to all members and now meets remotely in the evening through a Zoom platform. Call or email our office if you would like to be added to this Bureau.

I hope you are enjoying the new year. I am honored to serve as your CEO/Executive Director. Please feel free to reach out to me at any time. My email address is lane@okosteo.org or I can be reached at the office at 405-528-4848.

Oklahoma D.O. | Winter 2020

Welcome to our winter issue of the Oklahoma DO magazine! Thanks to all of you that joined us for the OOA's Winter CME Seminar in Catoosa January 17-19, 2020. If you were unable to attend, we missed you and hope that you will join us in April at the 120th Annual Convention at our new location, the Sheraton Downtown Hotel in Oklahoma City, on April 23-26. The theme of this year's convention is "Is the Grass Greener on the Other Side?" with Richard W. Schafer, DO, FACOFP (President-Elect), serving as Convention Chair, and Jason L. Hill, DO, FACOFP (Vice-President) serving as Program Chair. Look for the registration form on page 23.

Proper Prescribing

SB1446 requires DO physicians to have one hour of education in opioid use or addiction or one hour of education in pain management prior to renewal of licensure. The Oklahoma State Board of Osteopathic Examiners requires that this course be taken in person at an approved course (no online course will be accepted). For these reasons, the OOA will be offering Proper Prescribing each quarter to give our members more opportunities to receive credit prior to licensure renewal. Watch the OOA Report and our website for course dates.

Legislation

As I write this report, we are a few days away from hearing the 2020 State of the State Address from Governor Kevin Stitt on February 3rd and the start of the second regular session of the 57th Legislature. There have been 2,243 new bills and joint resolutions filed this year and the OOA's Bureau on Legislation and lobbyists are currently sorting through all the healthcare related bills. At this time, we know that three APRN bills (SB1391, SB1751, SB1917) one CRNA bill (SB1848) and one PA bill (SB1915) have been filed, all asking for an increase in scope of practice.

Overcoming Barriers to Promote Advance Care Planning Discussions in the Outpatient Setting: Is There a Better Way?

Nikki Eagle Road, DO, PGY1, Mitchell Sanford, D.O., PGY2, Robert King, MD, Ashton Clayborn, DO

Choctaw Nation Family Medicine Residency, Talihina, OK

Primary care physicians play a vital role in patients’ advanced care planning, but studies consistently show these important conversations are happening too infrequently. Many barriers have been identified in attempting to overcome this state. This quality improvement project was undertaken with the goal of increasing advanced care planning discussions between physicians and their adult patients over age 50 years in our rural, tribally-affiliated outpatient family medicine residency clinic. Patients were randomized by our appointment scheduler based on appointment time only. The intervention group was asked to watch a 6-minute informational video (found at: <https://youtu.be/skzAGEf9bv8>) on advance care planning while waiting for their doctor. The control group was not offered the video. Resident physicians were asked to document CPT code 99497 in the electronic health record for any advance care planning discussions. Electronic records were then queried for this code and data compared between study groups to determine the efficacy of the intervention. It was hypothesized that implementation of the video would result in increased discussions documented in the intervention group when compared with the control group. Data analysis revealed among 100 patients who watched the video, 52 discussions of advance care planning were documented. 2 discussions were documented in the control group of 369. The video intervention led to a nearly 100-fold increase (0.54% in the control group vs. 52% in the intervention group, $p < 0.00001$) in advance care planning discussions between patients and their physician and may continue to serve as a mechanism for fostering these discussions in the future.

CHSI/VA Collaborative Development of an Asynchronous Digital Solution/Platform to Increase Veteran Access to Smoking Cessation Medications.

Mopileola Tomi Adewumi (MS; MHA; OMS I) 1, Ipe Paramel (MHA)2, Marjorie Erdmann (MS)2, William Paiva (Ph.D.)2

1. Oklahoma State University, College of Osteopathic Medicine
2. Oklahoma State University, Center for Health Systems Innovation

Introduction:

Smoking is a major modifiable health risk factor in the United States especially for veterans. Approximately, 10 million adults search online for assistance in quitting smoking each year. These signify a need for decreased barriers to smoking cessation medications, especially for smokers with a desire to quit.

Research Question or Hypothesis:

The objective of this quality improvement study is to develop and test the efficiency of a digital solution aimed at increasing veteran access to smoking cessation medications.

Methods:

Our quality improvement goal was to develop a digital platform, targeted towards established patients who would otherwise need to schedule an appointment with their provider to access smoking cessation medications. We ensured the involvement of a multi disciplinary team, including health, legal, administrative, computer software and academic professionals. We also used the Stanford design thinking process guide which involves several stages of idea development: Empathize, Define, Ideate, Prototype and Test.

Results:

We successfully developed an asynchronous online platform that allows the following: (1) secure invitation from a physician; (2) a quick consultation in form of a questionnaire filled out by the patient; (3) review of patient profile by physician; (4) prescription of medication and (5) continuous evaluation of patients as they progress through the program.

Conclusions:

This platform was successfully developed and is in the process of being tested for effectiveness at the VA Hospital in Muskogee, Oklahoma.

Inappropriate Prophylactic Use of Antibiotics in Gynecologic Surgeries in an Inner-City Hospital

Jacquelyn Boyd, DO, PGY-4, SSM Health- Saint Anthony Hospital

Kristin Kniech, DO, PGY-1, SSM Health- Saint Anthony Hospital

3RD

As antibiotic resistance is an increasing healthcare issue, promotion of antibiotic stewardship within hospitals has led to research into their proper use. The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG) has specific recommendations for antimicrobial prophylaxis prior to gynecologic procedures. We hypothesized that patients in an inner-city hospital in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma undergoing gynecologic procedures were receiving prophylactic antibiotics that were not necessarily indicated for their surgery. A retrospective chart review was performed from July, 2017 to June, 2018. 314 surgeries were performed in this time and 169 cases met inclusion criteria as gynecologic procedures with no indication for antimicrobial prophylaxis. Of the 169 included cases, 98 (57.99%) revealed antibiotics were inappropriately given., which was statistically significant ($p < 0.5$). The most common procedure in which misuse was noted were laparoscopic procedures without entry into the bowel or vagina, composing 61.2% of cases. Cefazolin was the most frequently used and was given in 84.7% of the cases. These results reflect the overuse of antibiotics for surgical prophylaxis, which contributes to increasing antibiotic resistance in women undergoing elective gynecologic procedures. Overall, this is hindering the progressive movement towards promotion of antibiotic stewardship. We hope that these study results will limit the misuse of antibiotics in a hospital setting, and specifically in surgical specialties.

SoonerCare 2.0

News From the Office of Governor Kevin Stitt

~ Media Contact: Baylee Lakey, baylee.lakey@gov.ok.gov

On January 30th, Governor Kevin Stitt announced his administration's healthcare plan, called SoonerCare 2.0, in Washington, D.C. where he was participating in the Trump administration's release of the Healthy Adult Opportunity (HAO) initiative to give unprecedented flexibility to States to innovate and develop Medicaid plans for the adult population where federal funding is optional.

"I have sought Oklahomans' input over the past several months in crafting my administration's healthcare plan, and they have told me they want more access to care in rural Oklahoma, they want accountability and better outcomes in the current Medicaid system, and they want us to reclaim our tax dollars from Washington, D.C.," said Gov. Stitt. "With SoonerCare 2.0, we will achieve what Oklahomans are asking for, and we will fund it through efficiencies and accountability reforms, protecting Oklahomans from new taxes."

"With SoonerCare 2.0, we will pursue comprehensive reform of Medicaid delivery, made possible due to the unprecedented flexibility and innovation being granted by the Trump administration's Healthy Adult Opportunity initiative. SoonerCare 2.0 will deliver strong personal-responsibility mechanisms for new enrollees, will target dollars on rural healthcare delivery and substance abuse programs, and transform services to be focused on outcomes and health advancements instead of excessive billing practices. In all things, we will pursue Top Ten status, and with SoonerCare 2.0 we will be taking a next step in pulling Oklahoma out of bottom ten healthcare rankings that our State has battled for generations."

As part of SoonerCare 2.0, the Stitt administration will be pursuing the following:

Capture total federal funds available under Medicaid: In the coming few weeks, the State will submit a State Plan Amendment to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) coupled with applications for the new Healthy Adult Opportunity waivers to achieve maximum flexibility for use of more than $1.1 billion in additional federal Medicaid funds.

The State will need no new state taxpayer dollars to pay for its roughly $150 million share. The Stitt administration will seek partnership with the Legislature to support the State's share by:

- Recognizing cost savings in Department of Corrections and Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse, where millions of dollars currently being paid 100% by the State will be replaced with federal funding once SoonerCare 2.0 is fully implemented.
- Leveraging the full Supplemental Hospital Offset Payment Program (SHOPP) fee of 4% currently in state statute, a rate in Oklahoma that will remain below the national standard of 6%.
- Requesting Oklahomans to reform TSET, protecting the corpus and leveraging future funds to directly deliver stronger, more accessible healthcare services to rural Oklahoma as part of SoonerCare 2.0.

Pursue maximum flexibility under the Trump administration's Healthy Adult Opportunity to deliver personal responsibility: For Oklahomans that will become eligible for Medicaid under SoonerCare 2.0, the insurance program will be set up to create a true trampoline and prepare the individual to transition to employment and the responsibility of maintaining private insurance coverage. The Stitt administration will pursue HAO flexibility to implement modest premiums and establish work requirements that encourage individuals to be engaged in activity that advances their personal potential, such as education, certification, or employment.

Innovate the delivery of rural health care as well as specialized substance abuse programs with flexibility granted under the Trump administration's Healthy Adult Opportunity: With HAO flexibility, SoonerCare 2.0 will innovate to improve access to care in rural Oklahoma. The Stitt administration will work with health care providers, communities and payers to act on new federal opportunities that will allow the State to enhance provider reimbursement, authorize telehealth services, manage non-emergency medical transportation, and redefine "hospitals" to expand care options in areas with limited populations. With HAO flexibility, SoonerCare 2.0 will also seek to expand targeted treatment for opioid addiction and substance abuse.

Deliver system reform across the full Medicaid program: To increase the effectiveness of Oklahoma's Medicaid program and achieve better outcomes, the state will implement a full-risk managed care program with a strong quality component. Most states have abandoned years ago the government-run, fee-for-service program currently in place in Oklahoma. The Oklahoma Health Care Authority will go through a series of public bids and public comment periods to procure the right cost containment plan for Oklahoma. The new Medicaid enrollees under SoonerCare 2.0 will be the first population under the reformed delivery system.

"The Oklahoma Health Care Authority is thrilled to be a part of Governor Stitt's health plan, SoonerCare 2.0," said Kevin Corbett, Director of the Oklahoma Health Care Authority. "Our agency, along with our partner agencies, stakeholders and in collaboration with the public, will pursue a rigorous and thorough process towards bringing this outcome based approach to managing our state's health care needs and reaching the administration's Top Ten goals."

The agency will pursue the following priorities in obtaining and implementing this major reform initiative:

- Transform primary care from a system that reacts after someone get sick to a system that keeps people as healthy as possible.
- Pay for what works to improve and maintain health and convert volume-based fee-for-service payments into value-based payments that reward better health outcomes.
- Prevent chronic disease whenever possible, and when it occurs, coordinate care to improve the quality of life and help minimize chronic care costs.

Speaker McCall, Chairman McEntire Comment on Governor's Health Care Plan

House Speaker Charles McCall, R-Atoka, issued the following statement today on Governor Kevin Stitt's SoonerCare 2.0 announcement:

"This is a far better plan than putting Obamacare in the Constitution with no flexibility. Our Caucus appreciates Governor Stitt's strong leadership working with the Trump administration to bring federal dollars back to Oklahoma. We will promptly discuss the governor's plan as a Caucus and seek input from the entire Legislature upon session convening next week.

When states can work with the federal administration, outcomes for citizens are always better. This opportunity to work hand in hand with the federal administration on a plan it has endorsed will make our citizens healthier. The governor's plan gives Oklahoma the flexibility to put our citizens' health first, while the state question puts stringent federal Obamacare requirements first, to the detriment of innovation and health outcomes.

At first glance, the governor's plan swiftly brings our federal dollars home to help Oklahomans in a far more responsible fashion than the state question. It also has responsible funding mechanisms, which the state question does not. The state question forces the Obamacare federal model upon states, and the Trump-Stitt plan puts states in charge of their own healthcare and health outcomes. We will discuss more details in the coming days, but it is a highly promising plan."

Rep. Marcus McEntire, R-Duncan, co-chair of the legislative Healthcare Working Group and chair of the House Appropriations & Budget Subcommittee on Health, issued the following statement:

"At first blush of seeing this plan, I'm optimistic. It does increase access to care and captures our tax dollars and brings them back home. It also gives the state unprecedented flexibility in designing and administering Medicaid without raising taxes on Oklahoma citizens or raiding dollars from other core areas of service."

OOA's Statements on the Governor's HealthCare Plan

Oklahoma's osteopathic physicians continue to provide excellent healthcare to Oklahoma's Medicaid patients in all 77 counties. While we have not seen the full details of Gov. Stitt's Medicaid proposal, we are eager to meet with him and his administration and give our feedback from the physicians that are on the front line every day taking care of Oklahoma's most vulnerable.

The OOA reached out to Governor Stitt, along with other healthcare providers in the state, to offer input. While we have yet to meet with Governor Stitt, we did meet with OHCA Director Kevin Corbett and Secretary Jerome Loughridge to voice our opinions and offer input.

As we learn more about the details of his proposal, we will definitely need your input and prompt reply about how this will impact your patients across the state.

ADVOCACY

We Need Your Active Involvement!

Serve as Doctor of the Day at the Oklahoma State Capitol

The OOA is sponsoring the Doctor of the Day program during the month of March at the Oklahoma State Capitol. This program provides a great opportunity to serve our state's leaders and learn more about the legislative process at the same time.

Physicians are needed to serve in March on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. and Thursdays from 8:30 a.m.-noon.

Each doctor can expect to see a handful of patients, be introduced in both the House and Senate chambers, and meet with their legislators. The OOA will provide talking points so you'll know the most pressing issues affecting you and your patients.

If you're interested in serving or have any questions, contact Maegan Dunn at maegan@okosteo.org or 405-528-4848. Thank you for your willingness to serve our great state!

Join Us at the Oklahoma State Capitol

Your presence and voice can make a difference when you participate in the state's ultimate osteopathic advocacy day - Osteopathic Medicine Day 2020.

Coming up on March 25, join us at the Oklahoma Capitol for a day that includes visits with legislative leaders, meetings with your state senator and state representative, and lunch—not to mention the opportunity to have a lasting impact on health care in Oklahoma. This is a great way to get involved in advocacy and open to all students, residents and full-practicing physicians. Don't forget to wear your white coat!

Don't wait, register today for Osteopathic Medicine Day at www.okosteo.org, under the 'Legislation' tab. We need your information to set up appointments with your legislators. The deadline to register is Monday, March 16. For questions, please contact Maegan Dunn at maegan@okosteo.org or 405-528-4848.

120TH ANNUAL CONVENTION

IS THE GRASS GREENER?

"And I'd like to give my love to everybody and let them know that the grass may look greener on the other side, but believe me, it's just as hard to cut." – Little Richard

As a DO, great responsibility is placed on our osteopathic outlook to embrace the whole person. Evolving scientific research and technology take us one way, while a plant-based approach may take us another.

This CME features a variety of topics to allow time to immerse in the new and savor the old. After attending, participants will feel rejuvenated and have a better understanding of medicine as seen on both sides of the fence.

Advocacy in Action

The OOA Executive Director, Lana Ivy, MBA, CRFE, and Director of Outreach and Administrator of Legislative Affairs, Maegan Dunn, had the opportunity to address the OSU-COM SOMA and ACOFP student organizations. We always enjoy the opportunity to share the OOA with students and keep them updated on legislative efforts that we are undertaking. They are passionate about protecting their future careers and the profession, and we will continue to fight on their behalf.
